Season Greetings from Willow Class!!! We are feeling extra festive with the chilly weather and icy landscapes.

The festive season is well and truly here! The children have rehearsed for the nativity play for several weeks and the practice paid off- both performances went really well and the children were just fantastic!

Well done to all the children and everyone involved... and a particular well done to Miss Digging for organising us all!

This week the Willow children have continued reading the Jolly Christmas Postman by Janet and Allan Ahlberg. We have written some letters to Humpty Dumpty at the hospital and thought about some special advice we could give him (avoid climbing high places etc). We also wrote some letters to Father Christmas which were posted at the end of last week.

In Maths we have completed some assessments with a particular focus on addition and subtraction. The children did really well- they should be proud of all their achievements this term!

We are also enjoying the company of a seasonal visitor in class and love checking on him every morning!

Here he is having tea with Miss Count (the counting fairy who often miscounts her numbers).

We had a lovely time on Thursday and everyone enjoyed having a Christmas dinner together in the village hall. We had a special guest arrive and who gave us a present each.

A Big thank you to FROGS!!!
